

Anatomy Acts in India - A Review

European Journal of Anatomy 23(6) - 469 - 477 (2019)

Authors - Vaishaly Bharambe, Vatsalaswamy Puranam , P.R. Manvikar , Pallavi Bajpayee

Presented by Lakshya Leo
Intern at MOHAN Foundation
B.Com LL.B(Hons.)

History of Body Donation 1

In 300 BC in Greece, Herophilus conducted systematic human dissections and was supported by the royal patronage to further the cause of medicine and science. With his death and the burning of Alexandria, the practice of human dissection for anatomical purposes was lost.

To read the complete details, Register our website by clicking the below button

Register Now